Are you Called to Protect our Youth? Trainers needed!

Called to Protect for Youth is a 3 to 4 hour program presented in our Catholic schools and parish religious education programs for middle school and high school students. This means that thousands of students receive this training every year on how to protect themselves from sexual abuse.

Are you called to be a trainer??

Every parish and Catholic school is encouraged to have a local trainer available to them.

Individuals who are degreed or licensed in mental health or social work professions can present this program, after completing a five-hour training.

The training will be held July 7, 2007 at Cedarbrake Catholic Retreat Center in Belton. There is no charge.

Those interested in becoming a trainer should submit a one page resume and a letter of reference from their pastor before June 1, 2007 to: Ethics and Integrity in Ministry Office, PO Box 13327, Austin, TX 78711, fax to (512) 476-5341 or e-mail to eim@austindiocese.org.

For more information, contact Helen Osman or Colleen Schiller at (512) 476-4888.
