Thank you for your interest in being trained to facilitate EIM workshops for the Diocese of Austin. The EIM office trains new facilitators for the EIM Workshop for adults as well as new facilitators for Called to Protect for Youth (CTPY), the abuse prevention/education program for middle/high school students.

Each is a day-long training that equips facilitators to present the EIM workshop, or the CTPY program, at their own parish/Catholic school and/or at other locations – the frequency and location of workshops that facilitators choose to do is up to the individual facilitator. Facilitators attending the training receive a facilitator manual and workshop DVDs, and information that covers the logistics and details of the programs and about the topic of sexual abuse.

All facilitators are volunteers – there is no compensation for time or travel. Once trained, there is no requirement to facilitate a certain number of workshops a year; some prefer just to serve at their own parish/school and others enjoy going to other parishes as well – both options are fine. Facilitator candidates don't have to have prior experience in the field of abuse or social services; the primary requirements are a comfort level speaking in public, particularly about a difficult subject like the sexual abuse of children, and a willingness to share your gifts of time and talent in this ministry.

Please indicate which workshop(s) you wish to be trained for by circling one or both.
If you are able to facilitate workshops in Spanish, please write "Spanish" below the workshop.
